FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

VERONICA H. MOORE, OWNER OF LEAF & VINE BOOKS, RELEASES A PLANT AND GARDENING-THEMED SOCIAL & EMOTIONAL LEARNING FOCUSED CHILDREN'S BOOK

Leaf & Vine Books' latest children's picture book delves into the world of a young girl discovering the profound influence of plants, highlighting their capacity to inspire and build communities. The narrative unfolds through the lens of a special mother-daughter connection, where Rosie, the main character, gains insight into the valuable lessons nature and our surroundings can teach us.

Leaf & Vine Books, a publishing company dedicated to crafting non-fiction children's book that fosters positive social and emotional learning, is thrilled to unveil its latest creation, "Rosie's Special Gift." Tailored for children aged 4-8, this captivating picture book was launched on December 14th, 2023, coinciding with the author's birthday for an extra touch of celebration and joy.

The new book aims to vividly demonstrate how plants can impart valuable lessons in responsibility, generosity, and community engagement. Through the heartwarming tale of a mother and daughter, the narrative beautifully underscores the profound impact that cultivating a legacy of plant care and growing food can have within the fabric of a family structure.

The book has been authored and published by Veronica H. Moore, a native of Chicago, IL but a local Lehigh Valley, PA resident. The owner of Leaf & Vine Books is an educator, facilitator, and entrepreneur with nearly 20 years of experience in learning and development, leadership, and organizational change management. She enjoys spending time with her family by traveling and finding good food to try together. The new book caters to readers who are advocates of plant therapy and desire to share this message far and wide!

The book was available for presale offering guaranteed autographed copies to buyers. For more information about the author, current and upcoming books, and other educational offerings, visit www.veronicahmoore.com.
