

Autumn Assessment Day
Friday, September 18, 2020
11:00 a.m.
Small Group Discussion***

1. Which learning objectives are the most essential for your program?
2. What worked well when we moved to online? (Reflect on your specific courses or on the program as a whole)
3. Did you have to leave anything out (modules, activities, written assignments, group work, etc.) when we moved to online? What were the consequences?
4. What challenges in terms of equity did you observe during the sudden move to remote learning? In other words, what were the different struggles that students faced during the crisis? How did you deal with them?
5. What about the other side of the coin: what successes did you observe among your students? How can we foster more of those triumphs?
6. What do your answers to the above questions suggest about your teaching/program in upcoming semesters?
7. Wrap-up: did your answer to #1 change as a result of your reflection/discussion?

*(Questions adapted from Jillian Kinzie's "How to Reorient Assessment and Accreditation in the Time of the COVID-19 Disruption." Assessment Update 32.4)