

Change of Program

In order to request a change of program, the student must schedule a meeting with their advisor for approval, complete a Program Change Request Form (see Forms link), and meet with the clinical coordinator of the new program.

The student's change of program request will be taken to a department meeting for vote.

Program changes requested in a particular semester are effective the following semester. In addition, because these program changes are essentially "new additions" to the new program, registration may be delayed for the registration period in which the program change takes effect.
