FIRST-YEAR EXPERIENCE AS A SOCIAL WORK STUDENT

Getting off to a great start in the Social Work program includes attending Social Work Learning Community events. Below are some of the many exciting events for social work freshmen. To be part of the events and activities, apply for the Social Work Learning Community (LC) or Living Learning Community (LLC). It's where the Social Work Department and new students connect to have a successful first semester and year.

Social work freshmen can choose either the Learning Community (LC) or Living Learning Community (LLC). LLC has a residential component with students living together in Beck Hall, while LC is non-residential. Both LC and LLC students are enrolled in two to three of the same courses together for the fall semester, and attend many department events and activities. For more information, contact Dr. Yoon Mi Kim (yokim@kutztown.edu).

If you are interested in LLC, please visit Kutztown's Living Learning Communities website (or go into Google.com and type in "Kutztown Social Work Living Learning Community"). If you have questions about Beck Hall or roommates, contact housing@kutztown.edu or 610-683-4027.
