

Carrie Babb Graduate School Application Expense Award

Overview

When the Carrie Babb Scholarship endowment contains unexpended funds following the awarding of scholarships, the Department of Geography, at its discretion, will publicize Carrie Babb Awards for graduate school application expenses. The purpose of this award is to help students defray some of the costs of applying for graduate school admission. Hopefully this will help stimulate student interest in furthering their studies in Geography or a related field.

General Criteria

To be eligible for a Carrie Babb Graduate School Application Expense Award, the applicant must:

- 1) be a current Babb Scholarship recipient in good academic standing,
- 2) be graduating in the semester during which this award is being sought,
- 3) provide a detailed listing of graduate programs in Geography (or a related field) under consideration, and their associated application fees,
- 4) complete the application form on the reverse side of this page.

Application Evaluation

Applications will be evaluated by the faculty of the Department of Geography and reviewed on an "as received" basis. Applications will be accepted and reviewed as long as funds are available. The Department of Geography reserves the right to accept or deny identified costs on a case-by-case basis.
